

Challenging — Part 10 — Answer sheet

<https://naplan-spelling.netlify.app/challenging-lc/part/10/>

Name: _____ Date: _____

181. _____

190. _____

182. _____

191. _____

183. _____

192. _____

184. _____

193. _____

185. _____

194. _____

186. _____

195. _____

187. _____

196. _____

188. _____

197. _____

189. _____

Answer key

181. benefited

The whole town benefited from the new hospital that opened last year.

182. deficient

Doctors found his diet deficient in iron and prescribed a supplement.

183. brilliance

The scientist's brilliance was obvious from her elegant solution to the problem.

184. facilities

The new sports centre offers excellent facilities, including an indoor pool and gym.

185. tsunami

The undersea earthquake triggered a tsunami that reached the coast within an hour.

186. proposition

The company's proposition was simple: invest now and profits would follow within a year.

187. insanity

Driving at that speed in the icy rain was pure insanity, the instructor warned.

188. helium

The party balloon floated to the ceiling because it was filled with helium instead of air.

189. moult

Every spring the parrot would moult, leaving small feathers scattered across the bottom of its cage.

190. noticeable

There was a noticeable improvement in her handwriting after weeks of daily practice.

191. silhouette

At sunset, only the silhouette of the lighthouse remained visible against the orange sky.

192. blase

After his tenth flight that year, he felt completely blase about air travel.

193. stationary

The traffic was completely stationary for almost an hour after the accident.

194. phosphorescent

The phosphorescent stars on his ceiling glowed softly long after the lamp was switched off.

195. responsibility

As team captain, it was her responsibility to organise the training schedule.

196. opaque

Frosted glass is opaque enough that no one could see into the bathroom.

197. irresponsible

Leaving the campfire burning overnight was an irresponsible thing to do in dry bushland.